HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Indigo Plains pounded the first spike during the industrial rail age and became a major player in territory trading. Cattle, milk, blood, and crystals are some of their main exports.

FARM CULTURE

The Indigo Plains farming community work tirelessly to provide grains and produce for all of Ravensguard and beyond. The mineral rich soil and rainy season makes growing here magical.

WHERE WILDLIFE THRIVES

Indigo Plains is home to some of the rarest species in the world. Lurma Mountain goats, Burling Bears, and Mottled Wolves were near extinction before being relocated to Indigo Plains. Heavily wooded areas, fields to graze, and large lakes provide exceptional living conditions for most land mammals.

GET GOING!

With thirty hiking trails, four great lakes, and recreational camping grounds, there's something for everyone. The hiking enthusiast, outdoorsy types, and fishing fanatics will love what Indigo Plains has to offer. So get out there and seize the day!

A dark, atmospheric landscape at dusk or dawn. The foreground is dominated by the silhouettes of trees and shrubs. A path or road curves through the center-left. The sky is a deep, dark blue, transitioning to a lighter orange and yellow at the horizon, suggesting a setting or rising sun.

“Misthill might be the capital of Ravensguard, but Indigo Plains is its heart.”
